PARK AVENUE SYNAGOGUE

מזל טוב! | Mazal Tov!

We here at Park Avenue Synagogue want to wish you mazal tov on your first step in the exciting journey toward your child(ren)'s becoming Bnei Mitzvah. (Recognizing that all children do not fit precisely into predefined categories, we will use the Hebrew plural form "Bnei Mitzvah" to refer to both individual young people preparing for this life cycle event and to all of the young people approaching this milestone.)

Preparing to become Bnei Mitzvah is a learning and growth experience for children and their families. Over the next two years, there will be many educational opportunities, informative meetings, and memorable moments that will lead you through this uniquely Jewish experience.

As much as children learn in Congregational School, day school, and synagogue services, parents are ultimately their children's primary teachers. By committing to your children's Jewish learning, you teach your children to make the synagogue a part of their lives for the rest of their lives.

Our Sages teach that an invisible angel stands beside each blade of grass and whispers, "Grow!" (Genesis Rabbah 10:6) How much more so each human soul! The Bnei Mitzvah ceremony celebrates a young person's growth and transition from one stage of life to another. We recognize, as did our ancestors, the importance of marking our life cycles with meaningful ceremonies. We see the ceremony both as a milestone, acknowledging hard work and dedication as your children enter Jewish adulthood, and as a gateway to lifelong learning and involvement within the Jewish community.

THE SYNAGOGUE PERSPECTIVE

Becoming Bnei Mitzvah at Park Avenue Synagogue

Bnei Mitzvah ceremonies at Park Avenue Synagogue can take place on:

Shabbat morning at 9:45 am

Shabbat afternoon (Minha) at 4:45 pm or 5:00 pm, depending on sundown

Sunday Rosh Hodesh (first day of a new Hebrew month) or holiday Monday (i.e.

Memorial Day) morning at 10:00 am

Yom Tov (holiday) as part of our community holiday worship on Sukkot, Hanukkah, or Pesach at 9:45 am

In addition, Bnei Mitzvah participate in the Friday evening service of the same Shabbat, coming up for candle lighting and leading Kiddush from the bimah. The family also attends morning minyan on the Monday or Thursday morning before the Shabbat, when the Bnei Mitzvah have an opportunity to wear a tallit, lay tefillin, and be welcomed into our Jewish community as adults.

What Our Students Learn as They Prepare to Become Bnei Mitzvah

Students prepare to chant the maftir aliyah from the Torah, chant the Haftarah (weekly reading from the Prophets), lead prayers, and give a short Dvar Torah (a teaching and reflection related to the weekly Torah or Haftarah reading).

We are supportive of students who wish to read additional aliyot from the Torah, provided that all required materials are learned with enough time to take additional readings. This will be coordinated with the student, parents, Bnei Mitzvah tutor, the Bnei Mitzvah Coordinator, and the clergy. In addition, if other members of the family would like to read Torah, please let us know as early as possible so that we may reserve the Torah reading for your family member.

Please note: For a shared Bnei Mitzvah ceremony, each family is able to take up to three additional Torah readings, if desired. This includes extra readings for a family member, as well as extra readings for the Bnei Mitzvah.

Attending Services Prior to the Bnei Mitzvah Ceremony

We encourage all families to come to Friday night, holiday, and Shabbat morning services. Attending services regularly will make your children more comfortable with them and ensure that they are fully prepared for their own ceremonies. To see the current schedule of services, visit the synagogue's calendar \(https://pasvn.org/calendar\).

Families in the Congregational School attend many PAS Shabbat services and programs as part of the weekly Shabbat Experience Program in the Vav (Grade 6) year.

Approximately one year prior to your child(ren)'s Bnei Mitzvah, your family will be invited to a Shabbat morning service in the Sanctuary, where you and your child will be invited up to the bimah to lead the community in the Aleinu prayer and give your family the honor of an ark opening. We call this "myParasha Shabbat."

Sharing a Service

On most Shabbat mornings at Park Avenue Synagogue, we have the joy of celebrating two children becoming Bnei Mitzvah. This is a wonderful milestone to celebrate together. We encourage families to meet in the months leading up to the day to help foster this sense of community. We are happy to make those family introductions.

Logistics and Scheduling

Approximately five months before a child's ceremony, parents meet with our Bnei Mitzvah Coordinator to discuss all the logistics of the day, including timing of services, family participation, sponsorship, and biographical information. We also discuss honors available to your family, including aliyot, raising and/or dressing of the Torah, and ark openings. Those assigned to aliyot and raising or dressing the Torah can familiarize themselves with the ritual by watching the instructional videos on the PAS website Bnei Mitzvah section \(https://pasyn.org/program/bnei-mitzvah\).

After the five-month meeting, we will call you to schedule all rabbi/dvar Torah and cantor meetings/rehearsals, including the final dress rehearsal (one hour) on the bimah during the week before the ceremony. Please keep in mind that during this last week your family will also attend morning minyan on either Monday or Thursday at 7:15 am (9:00 am if it's a bank holiday) and Friday evening Kabbalat Shabbat services at 6:15 pm.

At the final dress rehearsal, we confirm all arrangements and logistics, and students run through their entire service on the bimah. Before or after the dress rehearsal is also an excellent time to take photos in our sanctuary.

Respect for Shabbat

The synagogue is a sacred place and as such commands respect. If we are on a cell phone and we are not paying attention, we are not showing respect. It is distracting to others. We want to be present and dedicated to the service, clergy, and congregants, as well as the Bnei Mitzvah on the bimah. The use of all electronic devices, including but not limited to cell phones, is prohibited in the Sanctuary. In addition, please encourage your family and friends to open the siddur and follow the service, sing with the cantors and be a part of the service. We also encourage families to share with their guests that wearing a kippah and (for Jews) tallitot are also signs of respect for the service.

Please also note that cameras may only be used in your private reception.

Shabbat Bnei Mitzvah Reception

We hope that you will hold your child(ren)'s Bnei Mitzvah reception at Park Avenue Synagogue. Our catering vendors are strictly kosher and have a wide variety of menu options to choose from. To reserve one of the banquet halls for a private luncheon or to reserve the entire lower level, you will make arrangements directly with our events manager, Stephen Mascall \(smascall@pasyn.org\). We encourage you to make contact as soon as possible to ensure that your needs are met.

If you choose to host your reception offsite, we encourage you to offer kosher or dairy/pareve meals to your guests. We are happy to give you recommendations for top-notch kosher catering services.

In addition to food considerations, there are other important policies regarding receptions in the synagogue: Although some music is permitted at an afternoon reception, DJs, sign-in boards, writing, candle lighting, and the use of money or electronic devices by attendees or entertainers are not allowed for Shabbat afternoon, but are perfectly suitable for an evening reception after Shabbat.

If you choose to hold your reception at another location, please note that buses must wait on Madison Avenue between 87th and 88th Streets.

THE EDUCATIONAL PERSPECTIVE

Enrollment Requirement

To ensure that all children are properly prepared to become Bnei Mitzvah, they must be enrolled in and regularly attend either our Congregational School or a full-time Jewish day school.

Becoming Bnei Mitzvah is an important milestone on a lifelong journey of Jewish learning. In addition to continuing to learn at Congregational School or in day school, and attending services regularly, we provide a variety of quality educational experiences to make the most of the Bnei Mitzvah year.

Bnei Mitzvah Preparation – Congregational School Students

Vav Year – 6th Grade

- Congregational School classes, Shabbat services, and programs
- Bnei Mitzvah Family Education Programs – four during the year
- Book Club with Rabbi Cosgrove – two during the year

Hebrew Tutoring

- Hebrew tutoring continues to take place in 6th grade
 - As students will be reading many new Hebrew texts for their Bnei Mitzvah, commitment to Hebrew tutoring is critical for success

Trope Instruction as part of CS Curriculum

- 5th graders will attend a series of four torah trope sessions taught by trope specialists during normal class time
- 6th graders will attend a series of four haftarah trope sessions taught by trope specialists during normal class time

Zayin year – 7th Grade

- Congregational School classes and programs
- Family Education trips and programs, including one to the Museum of Jewish Heritage

Bnei Mitzvah Preparation – Day School Students

6th Grade

- Bnei Mitzvah Family Education Programs – four during the year
- Book Club with Rabbi Cosgrove – two during the year

7th Grade

- Family Education trips and programs, including one to the Museum of Jewish Heritage

Bnei Mitzvah Preparation – Individual

The Learning Process – Trope Class

Official preparation for your child's Bnei Mitzvah begins with trope (cantillation) class approximately one year in advance, during Congregational School hours. This multi-session class is where students begin learning fundamental skills for reading from the Torah and chanting Haftarah.

One-on-One Tutoring

When it is time to begin one-on-one Bnei Mitzvah tutoring, our Bnei Mitzvah Coordinator will contact you to schedule sessions with one of our tutors. The tutor will meet with your child for half an hour once a week at the synagogue, outside of Congregational School hours. The Bnei Mitzvah fee covers these weekly half-hour lessons with our tutors for up to 40 lessons. Students may also request additional lessons at their family's expense. We ask that if you need to reschedule a lesson, you alert the tutor more than 24 hours in advance.

Meeting with Our Rabbis & Dvar Torah

Families will also meet with our rabbis several months before the ceremony to discuss what it means to reach this milestone, learn about the particulars of the ceremony, and get answers to any questions that they may have. After the initial family meeting, students meet individually with our rabbis for three sessions to work on their dvar Torah, and families meet with the rabbis again in the weeks leading up to the ceremony.

Bimah Rehearsals

Our cantors will meet with students in the sanctuary or chapel during the two months leading up to the ceremony, culminating with a dress rehearsal the week before the ceremony.

The first bimah lesson is a family meeting, and we ask that one or both parents be present. Subsequent rehearsals are one-on-one with student and cantor.

The meetings with the cantors culminate in a dress rehearsal during the week before the Bnei Mitzvah ceremony. If the morning service is shared, the two families attend the dress rehearsal together.

Mitzvah Project

Each student is encouraged to do a mitzvah project. This can take many forms – volunteering for an organization, collecting money for a cause, or creating a program to help a need in our community or the greater community. Whatever the project, it should be close to each student’s heart, engage them, and provide the priceless feeling of making a difference. If you have any questions, please reach out to our Bnei Mitzvah Coordinator, who is happy to provide guidance and support.

Give a Mitzvah, Do a Mitzvah

This UJA Federation program is a popular resource for creating a mitzvah project. This program enables Bnei Mitzvah students to create their own customized mitzvah projects that connect their interests and hobbies to UJA Federation of New York’s work around the world. Alongside a UJA Federation mitzvah coordinator, participants brainstorm individual projects and then contribute time, energy, and a portion (or all) of their monetary gifts to their project. For more information, enter Give a Mitzvah in the search box on ujafedny.org.

Park Avenue Synagogue Food Pantry

Many PAS Bnei Mitzvah do their mitzvah project by volunteering at the PAS Food Pantry. The Food Pantry is a 32-year-old program coordinated and run entirely by our teens. Volunteers meet every Wednesday, year-round, to prepare food packages. They also meet on Friday afternoons to distribute packages to hundreds of local families in need. For more information, contact Rachel Sherman, Director of Youth Programming and Engagement \(rsherman@pasyn.org\).

Commitment to Jewish Learning

Park Avenue Synagogue offers teens wonderful and varied opportunities to stay involved after their Bnei Mitzvah year, including travel, Broadway trips, Wednesday evening classes at the Rabbi Judah Nadich High School, Rock Band, Parkapellas, and tzedakah projects. The intellectual maturation that occurs during high school years allows learners to tackle Jewish issues and concepts at a level that will carry them into college and beyond. In addition, attending Rabbi Judah Nadich High School is the best way to maintain relationships with PAS friends and stay connected to our synagogue community. Rachel Sherman, Director of Youth Programming and Engagement, will be in touch with you after your child's simcha to help you navigate this next step.

Educational Opportunities for Parents

The period of a child's Bnei Mitzvah training is a wonderful time for parents to increase their own Jewish education. We urge you to take advantage of the wealth of educational offerings at the synagogue, including daytime and evening classes, offerings, and conversations in Bible, theology, Hebrew, and synagogue skills, as well as our Shabbat Speaker Series, Study Circles, and numerous other interesting and relevant programs. As always, we encourage you to join us in services on Friday night and Shabbat morning! Please consult our website and emails to learn more.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE PERSPECTIVE

Bnei Mitzvah Fee

Our Bnei Mitzvah fee covers the cost of trope class, 40 one-on-one tutoring sessions, family programs, administration of the Bnei Mitzvah program, materials for your child's simcha, and a high-resolution video of your child's service. Additional tutoring sessions beyond the 40 sessions will be considered private, and you can coordinate those sessions with your Bnei Mitzvah tutor. Please note that the balance of the Bnei Mitzvah fee is due prior to the start of one-on-one tutoring, with the $1,000 deposit (paid when you confirm the Bnei Mitzvah date) deducted from the total fee.

Photography and Video

Sessions with your professional photographer will be coordinated with our staff. Suggested times include after you attend weekday morning minyan, the week before your child's ceremony, or before or after the dress rehearsal in the Sanctuary. A Torah scroll will be provided for you to use during your photo session. We ask that you not move reading tables, microphones, or other equipment in the Sanctuary.

During Shabbat, photography is prohibited in the Sanctuary and all public spaces, including hallways. At the Monday or Thursday morning minyan service, professional photography is not permitted, but unobtrusive photo taking with no flash is allowed.

All Bnei Mitzvah services are recorded in high-quality HD. Within a week of your ceremony, you will be sent a link with the video of the service, which you may download and share.

Park Avenue Synagogue also provides livestreaming of Shabbat morning services. Family and friends can watch in HD from afar on our Livestream \(pasyn.org/worship/livestream\).

Invitations

When designing your invitation, please feel free to consult Cantor Azi Schwartz or Allen Paisner, our Ritual Coordinator, about the correct spelling of Hebrew names and phrases. All Shabbat morning services begin at 9:45 am. Shabbat afternoon (Minha) services may begin at 4:45 pm or 5:00 pm, depending on the season and when Shabbat ends that day. Sunday Rosh Hodesh services begin at 10:00 am, as do Monday morning services on bank holidays. Please ask the Bnei Mitzvah coordinator any questions about times.

Bnei Mitzvah Sponsorship Opportunities

Shabbat Morning Kiddush

We encourage Bnei Mitzvah parents to sponsor the Congregational Kiddush following services. Everyone who attends services is invited to this Kiddush, and it is a mitzvah to extend hospitality in this way. Beyond sponsoring the basic Congregational Kiddush, the following Kiddush options are also available:

1. Embellish the Congregational Kiddush by supplementing the usual Kiddush menu, allowing for additional selections of food.
2. Expand the Congregational Kiddush by ordering additional quantities of food.
3. Hold a private Kiddush luncheon.
4. Have a private event consisting of a cocktail hour followed by a formal sit-down meal. This type of event uses both of our banquet halls.

Friday Night Oneg

Park Avenue Synagogue offers a sweet snack after Kabbalat Shabbat services on Friday night to welcome Shabbat. The Oneg sponsorship offers the opportunity for families celebrating a simcha to help cover the cost to these sweet treats.

Flower Arrangements on the Bimah

Park Avenue Synagogue has fresh flower arrangements on the bimah for all Shabbat services. Families celebrating a simcha can sponsor these flowers to help cover the cost.

Monday or Thursday Morning Minyan Breakfast

There is typically no food served after Monday and Thursday minyan. In the event that a Bnei Mitzvah family wishes to sponsor breakfast, Park Avenue Synagogue provides bagels and cream cheese (Minyan Breakfast) or bagels, cream cheese, and lox (Embellished Minyan Breakfast).

Music Sponsorship

Park Avenue Synagogue provides a meaningful musical experience at all Shabbat services. The music sponsorship offers the opportunity for families celebrating a simcha to help underwrite these musical enhancements to our service.

Minha services will have piano accompaniment. For the full ensemble, music must be sponsored.

Note: Each sponsorship fee underwrites only a portion of the total cost, so we do not split sponsorships among families sharing their simcha date. Each family pays the full sponsorship fee listed.

For Sponsorship Opportunity prices, please visit our Bnei Mitzvah page \(https://pasyn.org/program/bnei-mitzvah\), click on Contacts for Bnei Mitzvah coordination, and then on the sponsorship form or go directly to the Bnei Mitzvah Sponsorship Form \(https://www.tfaforms.com/4744168\).

Bnei Mitzvah Terminology¹

Aliyah (plural, aliyot): literally, “going up.” The ascent to the bimah to be honored with a reading from the Torah scroll and to say the blessings over the Torah scroll.

Amidah: literally, the “standing” prayer. The amidah constitutes the main body of Jewish liturgy. It is also known as ha-tefillah or the shemoneh esrei. The weekday amidah includes 19 blessings, while the Shabbat amidah includes nine blessings.

Bar/Bat Mitzvah ceremony: a religious service during which a child celebrates attaining the age of commandments (mitzvot)

Bikur ḥolim: visiting the sick

Bimah: refers either to the raised pulpit or to the desk from which prayers are led

Birkat ha-mazon: the Hebrew blessings that are recited after the meal

Brakhah (plural, brakhot): blessing

Hesed: loving kindness

Humash: (from ḥamesh, five): the Torah or Pentateuch (Five Books of Moses), or a book containing the text of the Torah

Dvar Torah: literally, “a word or item of Torah.” Characterizes a short comment or interpretation of any text or religious topic.

Gelilah: rolling and tying of the Torah scroll

Haftarah: literally, “completion.” A selection from the Prophets for a particular Shabbat or holiday that complements a theme or topic in the Torah reading.

Hagbah: lifting the Torah

Halakhah: literally, “the going” or “the way.” Traditional Jewish law.

Havdalah: literally, “separation, distinction.” The ceremony that ends Shabbat.

Kavannah: sacred intention, concentration, the goal of Jewish prayer and worship.

Ketuvim: the third section of the Hebrew bible (TaNaKH). Includes Psalms, Proverbs, Job, and the five megillot, Song of Songs, Ruth, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes, and Esther.

Kiddush: literally, “sanctification of the day over a cup of wine.” It also refers to the reception held following a service, at which time kiddush is recited.

Ma’ariv: the evening prayer service

Maftir: the last aliyah on a Shabbat or holiday morning. The person honored with the maftir aliyah also chants the haftarah.

¹ Adapted from Salkin, Jeffery K., Putting God on the Guest List. (Woodstock, VT: Jewish Lights Publishing, 1996).

Midrash: literally, “the searching out.” A post-biblical, rabbinic interpretation of a Biblical verse.

Minha: the afternoon prayer service

Mishnah: the classic post-Biblical code of Jewish law, compiled in Israel circa 200 C.E. by Rabbi Judah Ha-nasi

Mitzvah (plural, mitzvot): literally, “commandment.” An obligation of Jewish life. The word has also come to mean “a good deed.”

Musaf: the “additional” prayer service on Shabbat and holiday mornings. Recalls the ancient sacrificial rites of the Temple and repeats some themes covered earlier in the liturgy.

Parashah: the Torah portion of the week. Also sometimes referred to as the sidra.

Pirkei Avot: literally, “the chapters of the fathers.” The ethical maxims of the Mishnah, quoted in the names of the early Rabbis.

Shaharit: the morning prayer service

Talmud: literally, “learning.” Commentaries and discussions of the Mishnah, compiled circa 450–500 CE.

TaNakh: acronym for Torah, Nevi'im (the Prophets), and Ketuvim (the later writings) that compose the Hebrew Bible

Tefillin: black leather boxes containing excerpts from the Torah, attached with straps to the arm and head. Tefillin are worn at weekday morning services.

Tikkun: a book to aid the reader in preparing to read from the Torah. Each page has parallel columns with the punctuated Torah text next to the unpunctuated text as it appears in the Torah scroll.

Tikkun Olam: repairing the world

Torah: literally, “teaching” or “direction.” Narrowly, the first section of the Hebrew Bible, the Five Books of Moses that is read from a scroll. Broadly, all Jewish sacred literature.

Trope (cantillation, ta'amei ha-mikra): symbols that represent a configuration of notes that indicate how each word in the Torah or Haftarah is to be chanted

Tzedakah: the mitzvah of sacred giving
